An Aged Woman Plunged to Death

Mary Kennedy, 84, for 50 years a resident of Poughkeepsie and for many years employed at Smith Brothers', plunged to her death Wednesday morning when she fell down a flight of stairs in the hallway of her home at 26 Winfield street. In ill health for nearly 50 years, the aged woman had been in the habit, police were informed, of roaming about the house at night. Her sister, Catherine Kennedy, who also resides in the old family home, had endeavored to watch her during the nocturnal walks but shortly before 2 a. m. Miss Kennedy left her bedroom fully attired and was obviously proceeding down the steps when she fell. The fall was heard by her sister who rushed to the spot and found the body lying on the floor near the front door. Deputy County Medical Examiner Carpenter, after an investigation, reported that death was caused by a fracture of the top of the skull. He said that as she fell her head struck against the shoulder of an iron pipe at the foot of the stairway. Death was believed to have been instantaneous.

Cargo Piles Up on Docks San Francisco, Sept. 2 (AP)—Cargo piled up on San Francisco docks today as shippers anxiously watched progress of a jurisdictional dispute between A. F. of L. teamsters and C. I. O.-affiliated workers that has halted trucking on the waterfront. Officials of the teamsters union called their stop-work order 100 per cent effective when 400 trucks stopped hauling cargo to and from the docks yesterday.

Young Democrats The executive committee of the Young Democratic Club of Ulster county will meet tonight in Feye's restaurant on Wall street at 8 o'clock.

UNOFFICIAL WAR

So far, the war between Japan and China, like the Spanish war, isn't a war at all. In one case it's just a neighborhood row and in the other it's a family argument. There has been no official declaration, such as international law expects and such as used to be made as a matter of course. This situation might run on for years. The result is very confusing. All kinds of embarrassing diplomatic problems arise in the dealings of other governments with the combatants, and all sorts of disputes for international lawyers and tribunals to solve.

Troublesome as it is, however, to other nations, this Asiatic war is far less complicated and perilous than the one in Spain. It is isolated by distance from Europe and America, so that it offers far less risk of general embroilment than the Spanish conflict, in which two big foreign powers are already engaged.

In spite of large foreign interests in China, and the enmity of Japan and Russia, it should be comparatively simple to keep this oriental plague from spreading. For this purpose, other nations can well afford not to fly into a rage at losses and indignities occurring there accidentally, or under great stress. It is the wise part of the United States and Great Britain and every other interested bystander, while insisting self-respectfully on their rights, to keep cool and patient instead of shooting.

ALASKA BY AIR

Our frigid but rich territory of Alaska comes nearer. The United States post office department has been planning for some time to start regular air service. Now Canada gets into the game, ready to inaugurate air mail between Edmonton and Fairbanks by way of White Horse and Dawson. It is a race between them. It is, however, a friendly race. There should soon be traffic enough for both, to the great benefit of Alaskan residents and Americans with business interests there.

"People in the States have no idea of the enormousness of Alaska's potential wealth," says an assistant postmaster general at Washington. The big thing seems likely to be freight rather than ordinary mail. Large shipments of gold, platinum and turs are expected to come by air. And a large passenger traffic should develop, including vacationers lured by the wild mountain scenery and the sub-Arctic climate in summer.

BIKES FOR DRIVERS

An anonymous observer, in a letter to the paper, offers a new way—which is really an old way—to make good automobile drivers. A bicycle, he believes, makes the best training school. He says:

A person riding a bicycle has to steer to keep balance on rough or smooth surfaces and to get out of skids right and up, and has to judge his speed in turning corners. It becomes second nature, and in any experience in driving and teaching others to drive, this subconscious sense of balance makes the difference between a good and a poor driver.

Any cyclist of experience knows that the right, quick flip of the wheel will avoid a collision and get him out of a dangerous situation without endangering others, and the same procedure will serve for a car. The person used to riding a bicycle knows this, and how to do it, but usually the rider who has never learned to ride a bicycle does not.

We wouldn't be surprised if he's right. These kids who have been riding bikes for years, when they finally get behind a steering wheel, don't seem to need much teaching.

CIVIC CLEANLINESS

Rage, the Baldie mascot, is determined to be a model of cleanliness. New regulations forbid throwing cigarette butts, bits of paper, matches and peanut shells on the sidewalk, entering a public vehicle in dirty overalls, and throwing water in the streets in freezing weather. The police can fine offenders on the spot.

The rattling milk can is no longer a problem in American cities, and many citizens think a dog or cat has a right to make a little noise of its own, in a civilization where human noises bother animals more than animal noises bother humans. But we could certainly profit by more carefulness about cluttering up streets and sidewalks and parks.

FUNCTIONAL HEART DISEASE

When a patient consults a physician complaining of shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, and pain over heart or breastbone, naturally patient and physician may both suspect heart disease. It also, there is early fatigue, general weakness, dizziness, and profuse sweating, real or organic heart disease must surely be present.

That many of the above symptoms may be present without true heart disease was definitely shown during and after the war, and even more recently during the three or four years when times were difficult. All these symptoms may be due to what is known as "functional" heart disease. Functional means that while the heart (or other organ) is perfectly sound in its structure, nevertheless something is interfering with the way it does its work. In true or organic disease there is something wrong with the structure of the organ—valve not closing properly, fibrous tissue taking place of elastic tissue, or other condition.

The cause of functional heart disease is not definitely known. It is sometimes called "irritable heart" and "soldier's heart." The factors that produce it or bring on the condition more easily are heredity or constitutional weakness, lack of food or wrong kind of food, overwork, recovering from various infectious fevers, local infections (teeth, tonsils, sinuses), and early tuberculosis. It may be caused by financial anxiety, family worries, emotional conflicts, physical and mental stress.

Dr. W. E. Nesbitt, San Antonio, in the Texas Journal of Medicine, tells us that the prognosis (chances) as to life are good, but many of these cases do not seem to improve despite treatment.

"Treatment consists in assuring the patient that no organic disease has been found. The cause and the way the ailment produces symptoms should be explained, and a healthful daily program regarding rest and food should be worked out for this sedative (quieting medicine) may be prescribed, but drugs to slow down or stimulate the heart should not be used."

This, of course, is sound advice because it is not the heart, but the mind of the individual (worried, anxious, upset) that is causing the heart symptoms.

SYNOPSIS: Wealthy, flashy Prescott Fanning Janet, a Baltimore girl, aboard her yacht. She sends word to her young federal agent who loves her, Ruskling to Alton's Harbor he booked the yacht and finds, in a locked cabin, Fanning shot dead and Janet in a faint, a gun beside her. Neil rows her to the deserted lagoon and the kind of curious manner that seems to have been the cause of the murder. Burton Billings, justice of the peace, charges, moves the body and holds an inquest.

Chapter 16
Neil's Adversary

CAR after car arrived at Alton's bringing newspaper men from Washington and Baltimore, and later from more distant cities: Norfolk, Richmond, Philadelphia and even New York. The reporter spread around asking questions.

Other cars brought curiosity-seekers from all the adjacent counties and even from the city. Motor-boats from across the bay were coming into the harbor as if for a regatta. Neil wondered angrily what these people did for a living. The villagers gave up their usual occupations and took up good points of vantage to watch the arrivals and to pass the latest news. All this hubbub made Neil feel pretty grim. The whole world, it seemed, was aroused against him and Janet.

Shortly after 4 o'clock an ear-splitting chorus of sirens was heard approaching from up the river road and a car bearing the Maryland coat-of-arms swept around the corner with an escort of 10 state constables on motorcycles. They pulled up in front of the store. In the car rode a sternlooking man that Neil knew must be Bonniger, and beside him the sergeant of police in command of the detachment.

On the store porch Mr. Burton Billings was waiting with his whiskers idly swaying in the breeze. A little behind him stood Virgil Longcope grinning and chewing a cigar.

"How do you do, gentlemen?" said Mr. Billings with dignity. "I am the representative of the law here."

"How are you, Mr. Billings?" said Bonniger, and Neil saw that he had a sense of humor.

The police officer was introduced as Sergeant Wilson.

"The deceased is over in the shed," said the sergeant of the peace mysteriously. "Will you step over and take a look at him."

"In the shed?" put in Sergeant Wilson sharply. "We were told he was shot aboard his yacht."

"Well, he was. But we sat on him in the shed."

Virgil stood by enjoying every word of this. The cigar of the moment melted merrily over and over.

"And do you mean to say you have moved him?" said Wilson. "You have changed everything about."

"It's our custom to sit on a corpse," said Mr. Billings firmly. "You could have waited until we got here, couldn't you? What good did the inquest do? Did it establish anything?"

"The verdict was: Unknown man shot to death at the hands of person or persons unknown."

"My God," said the sergeant. "The crowd laughed, Virgil the loudest of any. Mr. Burton Billings glared around him and the laughter increased."

"I wash my hands of this case," he announced crushingly, and marched away with unshaken dignity, followed by laughter.

Investigators Get To Work

FROM that moment the comedy element was eliminated, and the investigation got to work in earnest. Constables were told off to establish police lines, and to direct traffic, while others went in of Penitence.

During this season, Jews are reminded that all mankind passes in judgment before its Creator, and are called upon to judge themselves, repent, and go forth with new resolve for righteous action in the year which faces them. The ten days of penitence find their climax in Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement and the season as a whole is the most important in the Jewish religious calendar.

The traditional greeting for this holiday is "May you be inscribed for a good year." This form of address goes back to a poetic thought of the deity as writing in a huge ledger the various fortunes assigned to each of His children.

Jewish legend declares that the world was created on the first day of Tishri. Thus Rosh Hashanah is referred to in the Orthodox prayer book as "the birthday of the world." The day's back-ground is therefore one of universalism and not of particularism, "at long last," to prepare quarters for the detachment in the loft over the store. A man was sent out to eject the soul-vent-hunters from the yacht, and to mount guard on her deck; one went out with him to get the crew.

"The witnesses must be separated from the crowd," said Bonniger. "Let them be kept in your quarters over the store now."

Neil studied Bonniger as he stood on the porch issuing his orders. That was his adversary. He saw a tall, spare man with the fine aquiline features of the old Maryland stock. There was good blood in this man. At present his face wore a grim, stern mask. A man who could keep his own counsel. He had a quiet voice and the kind of courteous manner that seems to have been the cause of the murder.

Bonniger, Longcope and Wilson entered the store, and a constable was placed at the door to keep everybody else out. Others kept the crowd moving back and forth in the road. It galled Neil to have to parade with the others, just as if he had no more than a curiosity-seeker's interest in the case. He determined that somehow or other he would get in with Bonniger; he would make a friend of him so that he could be at the center of things. It would be dangerous, but it would be worth the risk.

Chasing At His Exclusion

SOME time passed before Bonniger appeared again, but Neil had plenty of evidence of his activity. Searches of the woods on

The Paper Chase

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

WILLY NILLY and Jelly Bear were the "hares" for the hare-and-hound race or paper chase. They put down little pieces of paper and everyone had to follow the trail. Sometimes they put down false trails—dropping pieces of paper along a road for a certain distance and then stopping, and those who followed the false trail had to go back to the right one again and start from that point once more.

Rip and Chubby Bear ran together, for the game demanded that the "hounds" run in partners. The ducks stayed home and had a pond-floated party.

Rip and Chubby were marvelous the way they did not go off on any false trails and they were almost home—for they believed they could see in the dim distance, Willy Nilly and Jelly Bear who, of course, had a head start.

When Chubby Bear stopped for a moment, he had seen some honey bees around it and his good bear wisdom told him the rest. It was hanging from a tree and Chubby climbed the tree and grabbed some honey. Naturally the bees objected and came buzzing around him, but Chubby had also seen a little pond. He had jumped for that with the bees and the bees could not follow him to the water.

But Rip was around and they gave way to their anger on him and over him and around him and through him! They stung him so hard that he did not know what to do. Suddenly Chubby realized what he had done to Rip.

"Come to the pond!" he growled. Poor Rip was dashing in circles.

WHAT TO DO—

If Someone Apparently Drowns

1. Start artificial respiration immediately after the body is pulled out. Persons "apparently drowned" have been revived after as long as 20 to 30 minutes under water.
2. Get a doctor.
3. Loosen any tight clothing. Keep the patient warm and lying down.
4. Do not give him any liquids until he is fully conscious.

By The AP Feature Service

Here is the prone pressure method of artificial respiration endorsed by the American Red Cross:

Lay the patient on his stomach with one arm extended, the other bent at the elbow so that his face, turned outward, rests on his hand or forearm. His nose and mouth should be low and unobstructed.

Kneel, straddling his thighs. Place the palms of your hands on the small of his back with little fingers just touching his lowest ribs.

With arms extended, swing forward gradually, bringing your weight to bear upon him. (Don't press too hard if you're big and

Rotary Hears of Jr. League Project

Mrs. Kenneth H. LeFever, representing the Junior League of this city, spoke to the members and guests of Rotary in the Governor Clinton yesterday noon on the new charitable project which is to be undertaken by the League this year. The baby clinic and pre-natal clinic which had been fostered by the League for the past several years has been turned over to the city and the speaker stated that after considerable discussion by the League membership, it was decided to establish a Health Aid Bureau in Kingston as a Junior League project.

This bureau will endeavor to bring the various charitable agencies of Kingston under one focal point in an effort to prevent overlapping in the matter of health services in this city. It will also serve as a proving ground for charitable health cases inasmuch as it will prove which services are the weak links in the chain. The idea is to establish a central bureau where needy cases that demand medical attention will receive prompt attention. The League purpose is to set up an agency where a person may come and receive financial aid or a loan should that person's family need medical, dental or optical attention.

The bureau, when properly established, will also have a room set aside for the purpose of giving health aid. This service will embrace such essentials as bandages, crutches, wheel chairs, etc., and people needing these items will be able to get them at the bureau promptly.

The speaker asked the members of the Rotary Club to help make this project a success by their support.

Mrs. LeFever was introduced to the membership by Burton Davis of the Rotary program committee and the short business session prior to Mrs. LeFever's talk was conducted by President James Loughran.

Highway Safety Courses
Albany, N. Y., Sept. 2 (AP).—Highway safety courses will be nothing new to many New York state schools, a State Department of Education official declared today. "The new courses involve no change in the former schedule but merely increases the emphasis on vital materials that are already being utilized," George M. Wiley, associate commissioner of education said.

Failed to Rise
Binghamton, N. Y., Sept. 2 (AP).—Wilfred Snashall's projected balloon trip to New York city or Washington, D. C., was indefinitely off today. After a night of filling scores of four-foot balloons with hydrogen gas, the frail craft failed to leave the ground.

Washington's death is ascribed to exposure during a horseback ride in a storm.

Handies

Sign Language Helps Mexican Tourists Get Service:

By the AP Feature Service.
Mexico City—Remember "handies?"

Down here they were old stuff before ever the game swept the United States. Mexican tourists who spoke no Spanish long have used handies as a sign language for communication with native merchants and waiters.

In these pictures Jose F. Rojas, ambidextrous and ambilingual Mexican newspaperman, demonstrates for prospective American visitors three of the words they will need most:

"I WANT A DRINK"—Thumb and little finger extended as hand is jerked toward the mouth. Any barkeeper, in Mexico City at least, will understand you.

"AND FOOD"—Fingers bunched as hand is moved toward the mouth. The waiter will bring you something to eat, but you'll have to take your chance on what it may be.

"THAT'S ENOUGH"—Forefinger raised and waved in front of the face. This comes in handy (not handle, you punster) when your Mexican friends urge "just one more." If they don't understand readily, put on your hat and turn to go—as Senor Rojas has done.

Big Playground Exhibition at City Auditorium

The closing event of the city's playground season is the exhibition and entertainment to be given this evening in the municipal auditorium. A matinee performance was presented this afternoon. There are seven parks competing in the exhibition, and all seven parks have been awarded a certain amount of floor space to display their exhibits. The decorating and arranging of the various exhibits was made by each playground, and each tried to excel the other, for the playground having the best exhibit will be awarded the largest number of points scored.

The doors will open at 7 o'clock this evening and a small admission will be charged, as the proceeds are to be used for playground equipment for next season.

This morning the auditorium presented a busy scene with the youngsters from the various parks busy assembling their exhibits and decorating their booths.

Every resident of Kingston who is interested in the work of children should make it a point to attend the performance this evening to view the handcraft exhibits as well as enjoy the fine vaudeville program in which talented children from all of the seven playgrounds will take part.

New Standards For Auto Brakes

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 2 (AP)—New York state established today new standards for automobile brakes and considered a motorists "life detector."

As officials of the Motor Vehicle Department distributed the new standards to all law enforcement officials, R. J. Alden demonstrated his decelerometer, a device to measure the distance in which a car stops after the brakes are applied.

The decelerometer, developed in conjunction with the General Electric Company Engineers, Alden said, already has been approved by the Motor Vehicle Bureau of New Jersey and Connecticut.

Placed flat on the floor of the car, Alden said, it flashes a green light if the car stops in a safe distance, a red one if it doesn't.

The Gentlemanly Rattler. The Massasauga rattler is a short, thick-bodied snake about two and a half or three feet long, grayish in color. It is a sluggish snake, slow to bite, and would rather flee than fight. It prefers the vicinity of swamps. His gentlemanly quality exhibits itself in giving warning of his presence by means of a buzzing sound or rattle, which he produces with the "buttons" on his tail. Rattlers cannot leap at you. They cannot strike over two-thirds their length.

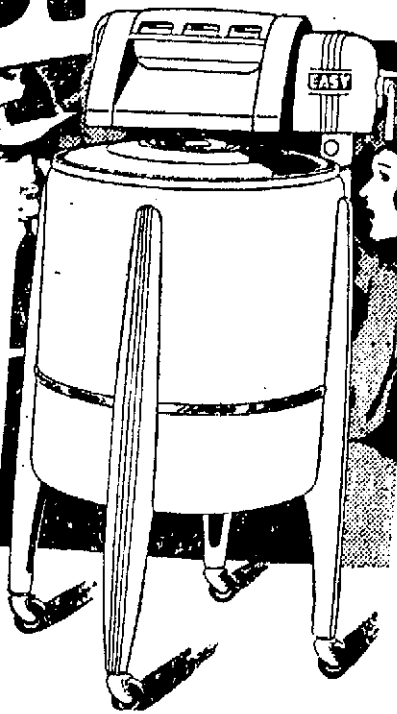

BANK OF FRANCE LOWERS ITS DISCOUNT RATE

Paris, Sept. 2 (AP)—The Bank of France lowered its discount rate today from four to three and one-half per cent.

The easing of credit from the previous rate, fixed Aug. 3, was accepted in financial quarters to mean the government was returning to a policy of easy money and no longer felt obliged to impose high interest to prevent speculation and the flight of capital from the country.

The rate on 30 day loans was also lowered from four to three and a half per cent and interest on loans on stock security dropped from five to four and a half per cent.

President Off on Fishing Vacation

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 2 (AP)—President Roosevelt turned toward Long Island Sound for a fishing vacation today after virtually clearing his desk for all remaining bills enacted by Congress.

Within a few hours he announced he had approved the sugar stabilization bill, the $526,000,000 Wagner-Steagall low-costing housing bill and the Senate measure authorizing a government helium monopoly.

He announced he had approved the sugar quota and production control measure only after a "gentlemen's agreement" to terminate what he called an "unholy alliance" between domestic growers and a seaboard refining monopoly.

The President went over the Far Eastern situation today with Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, and later the Spanish and Sino-Japanese conflicts with Robert W. Bingham, ambassador to London.

Officials announced following the Leahy conference that no additional naval craft would be dispatched to Chinese waters at this time for evacuation purposes.

In preparing to embark at Poughkeepsie late today on the yacht Potomac for four or five days of fishing in eastern New York waters, the Chief Executive arranged to keep constantly advised on Far Eastern developments by radio.

Samuel Johnson, 18th century poet and critic, was called "The Great Cham of Literature."

High Praise for American Press

Williamstown, Mass., Sept. 2 (AP)—The American press was described today as "the most thorough, competent and honest that this country has ever known" by Wilbur Forrest, executive assistant to the New York Herald-Tribune.

Forrest made his assertion in an address prepared for delivery at a round table discussion on the press at the Institute of Human Relations.

His talk followed one by Oswald Garrison Villard, contributing editor to the Nation, before the second general institute session on the press.

Villard said in a prepared address that freedom of the press as interpreted by newspaper publishers "meant that men might be attacked in their columns without the freedom to reply to present the truth when truth had been falsified."

Forrest asserted "that all but the few (newspapers) are on the alert every day guarding the canons of good taste in print and pictures, fighting relentlessly against inaccuracy, seeking to get both sides of the story, striving to publish the kind of newspaper you like to have come into your homes."

CANDLESTICK DISPLAY AT FLOWER FESTIVAL

An added attraction at the Flower Show in the Municipal Auditorium this year, for the benefit of the playgrounds, will be a display of candlesticks, under the direction of a committee composed of Mrs. Margaret Pendall, Mrs. T. Edmonston and Mrs. T. J. Donovan and Mrs. Sabina Howley.

Prizes will be offered for the best display of candlesticks in groups with flowers, and it is expected that this feature will be one of the outstanding attractions of the flower show.

Limiting Season On Muskrats and Grouse Discussed

Commissioner Osborne of the state conservation commission held a public hearing in Albany Monday to discuss the question of whether the open season on grouse and muskrats should be limited in order to preserve the game. Nelson W. Snyder, president of the Ulster County Fish and Game Protective Association, and Miles Pollack, secretary of the association, motored to Albany that day and attended the hearing.

President Snyder also stayed over in Albany to attend the meeting of the New York State Conservation Council. He said this morning that at the close of the public hearing on Monday that Commissioner Osborne signed that there would be no change in the open season on grouse in the state, but that the season on muskrats would likely be shortened to one half of the present open season.

Plans for Organization of a Woodstock Citizen's Union

Following is the announcement of plans for the organization of a Citizens' Union of Woodstock, N. Y.:

The need for an active non-partisan organization to promote the welfare of Woodstock has long been felt. At present there is no independent forum for the discussion of public affairs; there is no effective medium for expressing public opinion; there is no non-partisan channel for concerted action in the interest of the community; there is no vehicle for expressing community criticism or support of the action of our public officials except through partisan channels at election time. The need for a non-partisan organization which will serve these purposes is obvious.

From time to time, especially during the past two years, citizens of the town of Woodstock have expressed the desire that such an organization be formed. The growing interest in improved educational facilities and fire protection have been factors in crystallizing sentiment in favor of establishing a Citizens' Union of Woodstock for the purpose of promoting every phase of activity designed to improve the general welfare of our community.

Recently a group of citizens met to draw up a tentative program and plan of organization for the proposed Citizens' Union of Woodstock. Those present at the meeting, which was held at the home of Carl Eric Lindin, included Alfred de Lagere, Miss Isabel Doughty, William S. Elwin, Miss Julia Searing Leaycraft, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Eric Lindin, Martin Schutze, Eugene Speicher, Carl Walters and Miss Alice Wardwell of Woodstock village, Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Zimm of Lewis Hollow, Sherman Short of Wittenburg, and Mrs. Ashley Cooper and John A. Kingsbury of Shady.

After agreeing upon a tentative statement of purpose and program for the proposed Citizens' Union of Woodstock, the meeting adjourned until Wednesday evening, September 8. In the meantime the proposal will be circulated by those participating in the preliminary conference among some 200 or more citizens, back.

many of whom have expressed interest in the undertaking. They will be invited to take the plan under consideration, and, if sympathetic with its purpose and program to attend the meeting on the evening of September 8 at the M. E. Hall at Shady, for further consideration of the entire plan; and if general agreement is reached the adoption of a definite program and the establishment of a permanent organization for the Citizens' Union of Woodstock.

Following is the purpose and program of the proposed Citizens' Union of Woodstock as outlined in a tentative statement:

Purpose: The purpose of this organization shall be to promote, and to participate in, every phase of activity designed to improve the general condition of our community.

Program: Specifically, we stand for the following program and pledge ourselves to support at the polls and in office those candidates who we have most reason to believe will support and vigorously promote it:

We favor:

- A high standard of education.
- The promotion of health and sanitation for our community.
- Effective fire protection.
- The promotion of the unique character and beauty of our town and village.
- The fostering of the cultural and creative interests that characterize this community.
- The conservation of the financial resources of the town and county, and to that end the safeguarding of the funds of the taxpayers.

The porcupine would seem to be among the less desirable pests. One cannot really fondle the beast without danger of getting the barbs in the hand. Nevertheless, a man in Toronto really has one. He and his small son brought it from camp when it was too small to go to the zoo and had to be fed by a medicine dropper. When, later, Bebs was sent to the zoo she was homesick, pined, refused food. The family had to take her back.

ONE MAY DIE: TWO NATIONS AID

Denver physicians tonight handicapped to keep alive Shirley Krause (below) and Maybelle Outcalt (above right), both critically ill with infantile paralysis. They take turns in the only "iron lung" in the Rocky Mountains area, but one respirator is being flown to them from Toronto, Can., another is being rushed by express train from Chicago.

DEATH THWARTED AS IRON LUNG ARRIVES

Denver, Sept. 2 (AP)—Death apparently was thwarted today by a courageous girl of 24 and an international race to deliver two respirators to a Denver hospital where doctors had but one "iron lung" for a pair of infantile paralysis victims.

Tiny Shirley Krause survived the night outside the mechanical lung which had been her home since August 13. She gave up her box so that Maybelle Outcalt, 15, might continue breathing despite her paralyzed chest muscles.

A fire truck and its motorcycle police escort delivered a wooden respirator to the hospital early today after the breathing device had been transported here by plane from Toronto, via Chicago and Buffalo.

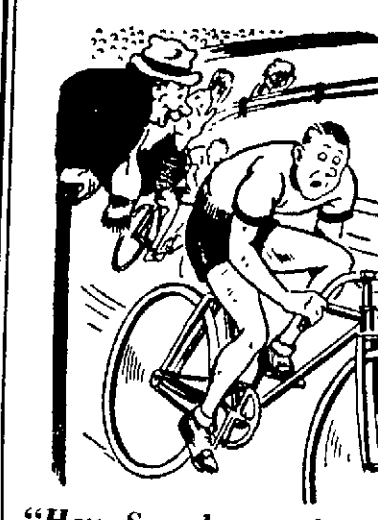

Doctors and mechanics hastily began assembling the "lung" which was knocked down in 11 pieces when officials of the Toronto Hospital for sick children started it on its journey yesterday.

At The Theatres

PREVIEWED

Today

Broadway: "Between Two Women." A parlor drama that centers around the old eternal triangle idea is to be witnessed at the Broadway with Franchot Tone as the bewildered man in the case and with Maureen O'Sullivan and Virginia Bruce both trying to snatch him for their own good. Produced by Metro-Goodwyn-Mayer, the show has a fairly entertaining.

Kingston: "Born Rockless" and "Windjammer." Two thrillers come to the uptown theatre, the first the story of a hair-raising, adventurous young fellow who enjoys a good fight or considers himself fortunate when caught in a dangerous spot. Brian Donlevy is the star of this attraction.

"Windjammer" is the other ture with the rugged George O'Brien starred in a story of the sea and men whose courage is put to the test, and not found wanting.

Orpheum: "History is Made at Night." Walter Wanger has fashioned an entertaining and exciting melodrama from this story of a head waiter who falls in love with a rich American girl. The play is brilliant with smart dialogue and the making of a giant link bulwark at its best. The cast offers such notables as Charles Hoyer, Jean Parker and Leo Carillo.

Tomorrow
Broadway: Same.
Kingston: Same.

Orpheum: "Love Is News" and "Borderland." A handsome reporter plus a rich society girl causes all the trouble and excitement in the opening film at the downtown theatre with the new romantic team of Tyrone Power and Loretta Young co-starred for the first time. It's a laughable but far fetched story of the newspaper profession and the situations that develop are merry and melodramatic. Don Ameche also featured. "Borderland" the other attraction, a flaml western thriller with Bill Boyd.

ANNUAL FAIR AND PICNIC

AT HIGH WOODS CHURCH
Among the events of special interest that will take place at Labor Day is the annual fair and picnic to be held on the grounds of the High Woods church the afternoon between two and six o'clock.

Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker, candidate for Congress on the Democratic ticket, will be one of the speakers.

On the Radio Day by Day

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

Time is Eastern Daylight Savings.
New York, Sept. 2 (AP).—Tommy Farr, the Welsh miner, will tell the world his story of his fight with Joe Louis via the radio tonight. The pick swinger who amazed the sports world by fighting 15 rounds instead of being knocked flat in one has been scheduled as a last minute addition to Rudy Vallee's program at 8 p. m. He will dispense the inside dope with the aid of Jim Tully.
The $28,000 Thompson trophy air race at Cleveland on Labor Day will be covered for the radio audience by a man who could fly the race and probably win it. Maj. Al Williams, holder of American air speed records for eight years, will broadcast the fit-by-fit description over WABC-CBS at 5 p. m.
Father Charles E. Coughlin, the radio priest, will return to the air on Sunday, October 3, at 4 p. m., for a series of 26 talks. He will broadcast over station WMCA and affiliated stations.

17 Teams Attend First Meeting at The Silver Palace

Birdseye View Of Sports Events

By EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Sept. 2 (AP).—Max Schmelling is convinced the crowd controlling Joe Louis is freezing him out of a return match because they are afraid he'll lick Joe again and romp off with the title. . . . Thus knocking them out of a lot of gravy. . . . Max will return home any day now with his own ideas of American sportsmanship and fair play. . . . Barton Gottfried Von Cramm not only will add a lot of tone to the National singles tennis championship at Forest Hills, but he's liable to win the singles. . . . If not, why is Don Budge no better than an even money choice?

Lou Gehrig, the iron man of the Yankees, picked up two checks this week, but hurled 'em back at the pitcher. . . . Lou lectured as a "professor" at Columbia University's baseball school and was rewarded with a check. . . . He returned it, saying he was a Columbia man and happy to appear gratis. . . . Lou received another check from his radio sponsor for the broadcast in which the slugger pulled his well-known buster by naming the wrong breakfast food. . . . He returned this one, also. . . . The sponsor returned the check with a letter saying every ball player is entitled to three strikes—so this time Lou banked it.

Too bad they overlooked John Henry Lewis, the light heavyweight king (and a real champ) when presenting the champions at the Yankee Stadium Monday night. . . . Bill Terry's new contract puts him ahead of Hickey Cochrane in the managerial salary race. . . . Tommy Farr begins his theatrical "career" with a routine on the steel pier at Atlantic City Saturday night. . . . "Dodgers set to take hand in National League flag race," says a New York headline. . . . Oh yeah? . . . What's this about Col. E. R. Bradley starting a mob whose name didn't begin with "B" on the last day at Saratoga? The news was Alrege.

Coaches Miles Creighton and Phil Handler of the Chicago Football Cardinals are going strong for Southwest Conference material this year. . . . Eleven stars from that territory are getting trials. . . . Lou Gehrig has hit 20 homers with the bags loaded—five this season. . . . Harry Markson, boxing expert of the Bronx Home News, goes into the 10th Century organization as assistant to publicity chief Walter St. Denis. . . . Can't always go by name, guys. . . . A hoss named Sargent won his second in a row at Detroit yesterday and paid $14.80. . . . Somebody asked Tommy Farr what he thought of Joe Louis' punches. . . . "If I'd seen 'em coming," replied the Welshman, "I wouldn't have got in the way of 'em you bet'."

Charlie Goldman of Syracuse will buy the contract of Lightweight Champion Lou Ambers when Lou's manager Al Weill, goes into the Hippodrome as matchmaker this month. . . . Out in Emporia, Kans., there is a baseball team known as the "Ban Johnsons," named after the man who organized the American League. . . . Alberto Lovell, the Argentine Indian, who has been doing all right on the coast, is headed east to try his luck. . . . Like Gene Tunney, Tommy Farr reads the classics and can quote Shakespeare like nobody's business. . . . Gus Greenlee says his boy, John Henry Lewis, will fight Joe Louis for an Irish Sweepstakes ticket.

Women's National Net Championship

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 2 (AP).

The best batch of women tennis players to grace the west side courts in a coon's age start battling the ball around today in the national championships. . . . Don Budge, on the men's side, is virtually a clinch to keep his singles crown. The only player given an outside chance of beating the slugging redhead is Baron Gottfried von Cramm, German ace, and he has failed in two previous attempts this summer. . . . But you can't chart the girls like that. Alice Marble, the defending champ, is up against three rivals who are right in her racket, any one of them good enough to knock the crown off Alice's blond head. . . . There are the unpronounceable Jole, Jadwiga Jedzejowska; the amping little Chilean, Anita Zazana; and, of course, Helen Jacobs.

Closi A. C. Wants Week-end Games

Due in a mixup in booking, the Closi A. C. is without a game for Monday, and would like to hook with some team in this vicinity.

Managers interested should communicate with Angelo Closi, 1 Delaware avenue, or phone 3600. . . . The Closis also want a Labor Day booking.

When President James Norton of the Silver Palace Bowling League rapped the gavel Wednesday evening at the first meeting to make plans for the oncoming season, 17 teams answered the roll call.

One of the chief orders of business was to organize the league on a solid cash basis, according to the standards which have become popular throughout the country. The entry fee was raised in order to bring about the progressive step.

Under the new arrangement, teams will receive 50 cents for each game won. In addition, there will be a cash award for team standings, individual averages and team and individual high games, secretary fees and incidental expenses.

It was voted to roll an 81-game schedule, starting Tuesday, September 21.

Team representatives present were James Dair, Addison Jones, Crystal Beauty Shoppe, Charles J. Tiano; Tydol Gas, Fred Storos; Telcos, William Sill; Bull Market; Joseph Huber; Jack's Garage; Jack Martin.

Millards, Schultz; Empire Liquors, George Robinson; Hostlers-Trojans, M. J. Peters; Key-stones, Dunbar; Essayers, Clifton Quick; Chevrolet, Asbury Gilbert; Central Hudson, Bailey; Reservoir Engineers, St. Leger; Moose, James Norton; Tweedie-McAndrews and the Apollos were not present but are expected to enter.

The Gold Division was formally organized with six clubs: Jones Dair, Crystal Beauty Shoppe, Tydol Gas, Jack's Garage, Bull Market and Telcos.

The remainder of the teams will be divided into a Class B and C group of six clubs each, to bring about a better grading of the bowlers.

The Gold Division will roll on Tuesday and the Silver Division on Wednesday as previously.

The next meeting will be held at Emmerick's Recreation alleys, Wednesday, September 8.

City Bowling Meeting at "Y"

The City Bowling League meeting, to make plans for the coming season, will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. President Emil Boessneck expects a full attendance of team representatives.

Clubs in last year's league were American Legion, the championship team; Colonials, Downtown Merchants, Planagans, Central Hudson, Y. M. C. A., Immanuel Lutheran, Livingstons, St. Peters and Lyceum.

This is Boessneck's first term as president and he hopes to carry on the league along the highly successful lines that Pete Keresman did for the 10 years he served as prey.

National Tennis Singles Open

BIG DOINGS are scheduled for the Forest Hills, N. Y., tennis courts, shown above, the first week of September. International stars of the net game will meet for the national singles titles in both men's and women's divisions. Don Budge is defender of the men's crown, and Miss Alice Marble will defend the women's title. These courts, known officially as the West Side Tennis Club, have been graced by such luminaries as Big Bill Tilden, Fred Perry, Jean Borotra and Henri Cochet in matches for the U. S. singles crown.

Billows Faces Goodwin Today

Los Angeles, Sept. 2 (AP).—The Western Amateur golf championship, pronounced with a decided southern accent in the qualifying play, swung into match play today.

Pacing the field of 61 survivors were Charles Yates of Atlanta, who walked off with medalist honors yesterday; and Paul Leslie, Louisiana State, defending champion, who did not have to qualify.

Yates took the Los Angeles Country Club course airtight yesterday as he fired a sizzling 67. Yates, heading the lower bracket as a result of the numerical draw, drew a tough match-play opponent in Tommy Goodwin of New York.

Chick Evans, Chicago, eight times a winner of this crown, faced Alan Ellis of Boston and Ray Billows, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., runner up in the National championship last week, drew Claire Goodwin of Oakland, Calif.

Tough Scrimmage For Meehan's Boys

Hightstown, N. J., Sept. 2 (AP).—The all-star team of eastern college football players will scrimmage this afternoon, against Chick Meehan's Manhattan College squad.

The players, who will meet the New York Giants of the National Football League, on September 8, face a scrum of two hours or more, far longer than any the collegians have held among themselves.

Kerr sent the squad through two drills yesterday although the thermometer was close to 90 degrees.

Packers Lose, 6-0, Appleknockers As Baugh Stars And Knit Mills

Chicago, Sept. 2 (AP).—Samuel Adrian Baugh, of Texas Christian University, is all the football player anybody ever said he was, as the professional champion Green Bay Packers will attest.

The Packers had heard about Baugh, but they had to wait until last night at Soldier Field, with a throng of 57,500 fans looking on to get it first hand.

They became the first professional team to take a beating from an all-star college aggregation, and it was Baugh who was the number one hero of the Coliseum's 6 to 0 triumph.

Early in the first period, Baugh started the one success but thrust of the night, by a quick kick over the Packers' goal line. The return boot by Clark Handle, the Packers' great fullback, went out of bounds on the Coliseum's 48-yard line.

Baugh called two running plays, then electrified the huge crowd by uncoiling the payoff pass of the game, a 29-yard shot to Gaynell Tinsley, Louisiana State's All-America end. Tinsley caught the ball 25 yards from the Packers' goal, executed a neat change of pace to leave Hank Bunde in the air, and used it to touchdown.

In spite of his brilliance, on the arid night, no team in the pro league will have the use of Baugh's remarkable talents. He has signed a contract with the St. Louis Cardinals as an infielder, and will confine his football to coaching.

Portland, Ore.—Kinz Kone Kashy, 225, Minneapolis, defeated Bobby Stewart, 260, Phoenix, Ariz., (11:05).

Los Angeles, Bronko Nagurski, 225, International Falls, Minn., defeated Daniel Bono, 240, 235, Kentucky, two straight falls.

This evening, the Catskill Appleknockers will cross bats with the Kingston Knit Mills softball team, starting at 6:30 o'clock, in Haskrouck Park.

Ben "No Hit" Toffel will pitch for the Appleknockers, with Plough as his battery mate. De-Cleen and Leatham will form the battery for the Knit Mills.

Both teams have large followings, and a crowd of spectators is expected for the tilt.

New Paltz May Have Grid Team

Because Coach Loren Campbell decided to discontinue varsity football at New Paltz Normal School, the village may put a team on the field this fall.

Plans are under way, it has been announced, to canvas New Paltz merchants for money to purchase suits for the players, who were on the Normal team last year.

If the team is formed, games will be played on the New Paltz field.

ONLY 10, BUT WINS WOMEN'S GOLF TITLE

Old Forge, N. Y., Sept. 2 (AP).—Ten-year-old Mary Louise Fulton of Scranton, Pa., held today the women's championship of the Old Forge Golf Club.

A golfer since she was seven, the flaxen-haired youngster won her crown yesterday after being beaten even with Mrs. H. F. Wright of New York city at the end of 18 holes. They played two extra holes with Miss Fulton winning on the 20th.

New York, Sept. 2 (AP).—Win or lose in his current bid to pilot the New York Giants to their third National League pennant in five seasons, Memphis Bill Terry will be baseball's highest-paid manager, in 1938.

He will be, that is, unless his neighboring rival, Joe McCarthy of the world champion Yankees, gets his stipend substantially increased as a reward for present accomplishments.

McCarthy now is getting $35,000 a year to Terry's $27,500 but under the terms of a new five-year contract, effective next season, the pilot of the Giants will, it is believed, be paid $40,000 annually.

Under his new contract, which displaces a five-year document that had one more year to run, Terry will become general manager of the Giants, besides continuing to direct the club on the field.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)
Washington — Lightweight Champion Lou Ambers, 135½, Herkimer, N. Y., outpointed Howard Scott, 138, Washington, (10), non-title.

Hartford, Conn.—Sixto Escobar, 122, Puerto Rico, world bantamweight champion, knocked out Eddie Reed, 122½, Hartford, (8), non-title.

Oakland, Calif.—Dale Sparr, 158, Olathe, Colo., outpointed Young Stuhley, 162, Chicago, (10).

Cincinnati — Chuck Grundish, lightweight, Detroit, outpointed Joe Mueller, Cincinnati, (8). Weights unavailable.

Another sell-out house will see the Mayor's Industrial card of boxing bouts at the municipal auditorium, Friday night, reserved seat sales indicate.

Custodian Dick Williams of the auditorium, who takes orders for the seats, announces one of the heaviest advance order lists in the history of amateur boxing here.

"I wouldn't be surprised if we'd have 350 ringside customers," said Dick to a reporter today. "My telephone has been busy ever since the announcement about the Severino-Rizzio bout. I'll soon need a new pad to take orders".

Fight patrons went xa-go over the match, as Announcer Sammy Riber would say in his up-to-the-minute lingo of fistiana, as soon as it was made.

And, they had every reason to fall hard for it. Severino, the sensational Schenectady schoolboy, is their favorite. He has not lost a fight in the auditorium ring, and his opponents have been the best available scappers.

Severino has walked out of the hemp enclosure at the Broadway Punch Bowl with victories over Kid Chapple, Danno Romano, Charley Foresti, Joey Turck, Joe Raviero and Pete Gama, the Newburgher who was rated as too tough a customer for Mario Seville months ago, but who fell a victim to his dynamic punching.

And, although Severino has taken the measure of the best featherweights in the Adirondack A. A. U., he has been beaten. Mario lost to Sammy Rizzio three weeks ago in Amsterdam, the same boy who is paired with him for Friday's card here.

That's probably the biggest reason for the heavy advance sale. Fight patrons want to see Severino back in the same ring with Sammy, not that they desire to have him beaten, but to watch some classy boy extend him to the limit—make him really fight to win.

Severino is pleased that the match is in Kingston, because he likes it here, and considers it his second home. He always gets a big hand when he is introduced at the auditorium, especially from the lady customers who think he's "cute".

Chick Ivanell, Severino's trainer, and handler of Johnny Bleski and the Adirondack A. A. U.'s star boxers is confident Severino will even the score with Rizzio.

"Mario was not in the best of physical condition for that Amsterdam bout he lost," said Ivanell. "Too much swimming and an over-load of good cooking at Johnny Bleski's farm for a week or so fixed him".

Ivanell said Severino has been training hard for Friday, and hopes to take Rizzio over.

Rizzio is paired with Romano on July 16. He shellacked the Heaton Bomber so decisively that local fans have been demanding his return ever since, and they'll set it Friday.

An excellent supporting card is booked for presentation with the stellar feature.

Capt. Goodsell and Flying Guests

When Captain O. M. Goodsell, former World War ace, flew into Kingston from Newburgh, Tuesday, with his tri-motor Ford Plane, he was accompanied by the group of Kingstonians pictured on the left: Ed Huber, second from left; Ira Warren, Carl Snyder, the captain himself, E. E. Fessen- Everett E. Fessen, George Smith, Joseph Mikesh and Bob Martin. In the picture on the right are: James Millard of Millard and local shirt manufacturer and aviation enthusiast, a strong friend of the flier; Alport, and Captain Goodsell, Ford dealers sponsoring the appearance of the plane at the flier; rides over Kingston on his stay here, starting every day at 1 p. m., except Sunday, when he'll go up at 10 a. m. on a special cruise.

Bibby Purchases Oldest House

office at present at his home on Fair street, was very enthusiastic in his praise of the fine old stone house which he has acquired. While Ulster county is rich in the fact that there are numerous Revolutionary stone houses throughout the territory, there is only one house which boasts the fact that it is the sole survivor of the British invasion on October 16, 1777, and beside being of special historic value the Van Steenberg house is also a very excellent type of early stone construction which has been faithfully preserved down through the years.
Legend has it that the old Van Steenberg house was the only abode left standing in Kingston at the time the British burned the village on October 16, 1777. The story goes that the British General Vaughan was very much in love with Miss Van Steenberg, a local girl whose beauty and grace had captured the general's heart, upon her visit to New York and attendance at a dance which the officer also attended. When the British applied the torch to the village, the general commanded that the lady-love's house be spared—thinking by this method to gain the fair maiden's heart.
Whether Vaughan's ruse was successful is not definitely known, but the fact remains that the Van Steenberg house still stands—the oldest of Kingston's fine stone dwellings. Its exact construction date is also unknown although the year the British burned the town, the third generation of Van Steenbergs were living in the house at the time.
The Willwyck Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution has placed a bronze tablet upon the house giving a brief history of its past and the reason for its being spared by the invaders.
In a poem written by Henry Abbey, a Kingston poet of some years past, the historic background of the Van Steenberg house is depicted along with the story of the British general and his Continental maiden. This poem is reprinted below.
A COLONIAL BALLAD
It was winter in New York and the British held the town;
For the colonies, in arms, were in flight, and the army was on the run.
There was danger in the air, and it seemed as if the day was won.
But the old, old house, with its many a story, stood firm and true.
Officers, in coats of red, lightly bowed, and the ladies in white, stood by.
Fitting round the human flowers at reception hall, and court.
Miss Van Steenberg, Kingston's belle, and of urban life renown,
Paid a visit to the flier, and at the sea she had charmed a prize,
For a hapless lover's sake, with a twinkle in the eye, and a smile,
"Sweetest girl that I have seen, and as beautiful as dawn."
Looking at the flier, said the British General Vaughan,
At a formal word or two, soon their hands and glances met,
And he led her like a king, in the night, to his room.
Many candles of wax lighted up the tripping hall;
Flutes and viols, perfumes, dress, ahead with music and song,
But the music of the heart, that came from the flier's heart,
Flew to the heart of the general, and the heart of the flier,
When the winter days were past, and the spring sun was shining,
Up the Hudson General Vaughan for a wedding day was sent.
In the old house, where the bride and groom were married,
The flier was the bride, and the general was the groom.
The flier was the bride, and the general was the groom.
The flier was the bride, and the general was the groom.

Industrials Lead in Downward Trend

In heavier trading—$20,000 shares changed hands—the stock market had its worst day yesterday, in a decline that has continued practically unbroken for several weeks.

Figured on the Dow-Jones averages industrials led in the downward movement, registering a decline of 4.33 points, to 173.08, which compares with 166.65 on the same day in 1936. Rails dropped 1.39 points, to 48.21 and utilities were off 0.65 point, to 26.73. Corporate bonds were down; government bonds were irregular.

In London there was uneasiness over the report that Russia was likely to intervene in the Far Eastern situation. Amsterdam market was weak; Paris inactive and irregular.

On the other hand, as has been true recently consistently, there were items of business news that indicated progress in various lines. Consolidated Edison Co. plans to spend $50,000,000 in 1937 for additional facilities, including $30,000,000 additional securities for construction program.

Present estimates indicate that the Bell System station gain for August will exceed the net advance of 22,600 registered in July, perhaps double that figure, although not up to the 68,000 gain in August last year, which was an all-time August record for the system.

Steel output in week ended August 20 was up one point, to 84 per cent of capacity. Electric output in week ended August 23 rose eight per cent above the 1936 week, according to the Edison Institute.

The cigarette industry is reported to have a record year, Philip Morris and Old Gold scoring the largest percentage in volume gains.

Harry Markson Joins Mike Jacobs

Kingston will be represented in the new set-up of the 20th Century Sporting Club when Mike Jacobs takes over Madison Square Garden the first of October.

Harry Markson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Markson of 18 Waverly street, will be assistant to Walter St. Denis on the publicity staff. Although a youngster, Markson has won recognition as a boxing expert, and, in choosing him Mike Jacobs has picked another winner. One of a newspaper family, Markson has followed the "inky way" ever since he graduated from Kingston High School, in 1923, devoting most of his time to sports, and for the past five years was boxing expert on The Bronx Home News.

Nathan Markson of The Leader and Sam Markson of the Albany Evening Journal are brothers of Harry.

This latest addition to Mike Jacobs' 20th Century Club family is well liked in New York, not alone by men in his own profession, but by those who make and direct champions.

Dan Morgan, "Dumb Dan Morgan," one of the most picturesque figures in the boxing business, the manager who directed four leather pushers to world's championships, told a Freeman reporter that he was glad Harry was taken in by the 20th Century.

"He's one of the best boxing writers we have around," said Morgan. "A friendly fellow who knows his business and can pick 'em despite his youth. And he's not a smart alec."

Initially, Morgan picked Farr to be Louis. Prior to the fight he said, "If this Farr keeps throwing his left, he'll ruin Louis, and if he had a punch I'd say he'd knock him out."
